The famous terror-inspiring brigand Tchakirdali, "the king of the Anatolian mountains," the ferocious, bloodthirsty Fra Diavolo of Asia Minor, has ceased to exist. His death was encompassed in thrilling manner. There is a custom among the brigands of the near east to kill themselves or to be killed by a fellow-brigand rather than fall into the hands of the authorities alive. Tchakirdjali had a special bosom friend, Mehmed by name,, who followed him like a slave. When both were cap-tured by Capt. Rushdi, the Ottoman in the treaty. Fra Diavolo reminded Mehmed of the custom, sanctioned by tradition and usage, and of the mutual vows. Mehmed did not hesitate one moment, and with a sturdy, well balanced blow of the Damascus blade, cut off the head of his leader, whom he had loved more than his own self, and then pierced his own heart with a dagger.
